From the Rabbi

A Sacred Scrabble Word

One of the most common Hebrew words is also one of the most complex. The word is “mitzvah.” It is so common that it is even in the English dictionary! (Which could make it a scrabble word if you accept italicized words.) The English dictionary gives two definitions – both reflecting the way in which we use the word today. Generally we use the word to mean “good deed.” Literally, the word means “commandment.” Almost all good deeds are commandments, but not all commandments are good deeds. (For example, it is a mitzvah to light Shabbat candles, but that hardly qualifies as a good deed.) In reality, both definitions are a bit inadequate. “Good deed” diminishes the weight of a mitzvah, reducing it to the basic human acts of decent behavior. “Commandment” seems impersonal and removed, implying obligation with no reference to meaning or significance. In reality, a mitzvah is both weighty and personal, elevating us above and beyond who we think we are, and with the potential for deep significance.

Of the many, many definitions of “mitzvah” that try to capture all of these nuances, one of the best is that of Rabbi Larry Kushner in The Book of Words. He defines mitzvah as “response.” It is our response to the presence of God. It is a definition that conveys so much more than “commandment,” and encompasses the possibility of a response that is reflected in the way we treat others (the “good deed”). Kushner puts it this way: “Consider what you do in response to God’s presence in your life. You may not hear a thundering Hallelujah (but) you become aware you are in the Presence. What then? Silence? Song? Blessing? Candles? Charity? Study? Reaching out to another? Just these are the beginning of the “response.”

So what does that mean about things like Mitzvah Day (on November 15) or the Mitzvah Project we require of our B’nai Mitzvah students? At first glance, the notion of a mitzvah as something that can be defined by a ‘day’ or a ‘project’ seems superficial – even more so if we understand the doing of a mitzvah as our response to the presence of the Holy One. That misses the point. When we do mitzvot as a Jewish community, or as part of a sacred event like a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, we embrace these activities as part of our fundamental identity as Jews, people in relationship with God, inheritors of an ancient tradition that makes demands on us.

Few of us need a day or a project to require us to give to charity, to walk for causes we agree with, to donate resources and time to organizations that are precious to us. But the point of Mitzvah Day is to go a step beyond what we normally do. Mitzvah Day is the chance to serve the broader world as a Jewish community – because responding to God requires that we respond to God’s creations. It is an opportunity to illustrate to the general community that being a Jew compels us to care for others – to feed the hungry, to comfort the elderly, to provide for children, to care for those who are often marginalized. Mitzvah Day is our chance to act as a community with a singular voice and a common purpose that will hopefully motivate and inspire us when November 15 is just a distant memory. A day for good deeds – yes. A day to fulfill a commandment – yes. But most of all, a day to respond to the God who wants us to be in relationship with the Holy, and to be in relationship with each other. I look forward to joining you all on November 15 in the work of repairing the world, one step at a time.

From the President - Jeff Newman

The Reset Button

CBS just celebrated Simchat Torah the other night. There was music, singing, dancing by all who were present. Families came to the bimah together to read their portion of the torah. It was a warm, festive, family event.

We read the last portion of Torah with one scroll, then we read the first part of Torah with another scroll. We did a reset of Jewish history and laws in 10 minutes. Old year into new year – a reset of religion, a reset of life.

I have always believed that life is a continuum of our previous actions and experiences. We use these as the building blocks of our journey—the foundation of the path we follow. Once those foundations are cemented, it is difficult to change paths. Simchat Torah shows us we can change our foundation. We can reset our lives and take a different look at the past we have cemented.

I have a severe aversion to pain. In the past, when I was achy, I would just let the pain consume my life. I would allow pain to strip my persona, I would be okay with it.

I still have an aversion to pain, but I am taking a different look on how I handle it. Slowly, I am not allowing the pain to consume me and I am incrementally rebuilding one of my foundations. My path will be altered for the better. I am taking the same information and resetting my world.

Reset your world by refocusing on Jewish teachings or by re-examining patterns that you want to change. We get this chance at Simchat torah by starting anew.

Have you pressed your reset button today?

Tuesday nights, 7:30 – 9:00pm November 10, 17, 24

Education is in the news almost daily as society struggles with how to prepare our kids to compete in a global world. What is the value of testing? How should students treat teachers? How should teachers respond to difficult students? If you are a teacher, work in a school, or care about education, join us to look at Jewish stories, ancient texts, and historical examples for insight into this important topic.

Lifelong Learning—Sheila Fishman

Rabbi Torop will be presenting a new series on the following Tuesday evenings: November 10, 17, and 24 from 7:30p.m. to 9:00p.m. The course of study is entitled, Class Size, Testing and Behavior Plans: What does Judaism Have to Say? The Rabbi notes that education is in the news almost daily as society struggles with how to prepare our kids to compete in a global world. She will be seeking answers to several questions with attendees. For example: What is the value of testing? How should students treat teachers? How should teachers respond to difficult students? If you are a teacher, work in a school, or care about education, join us to look at Jewish stories, ancient texts, and historical examples for insight into this important topic.

In addition, on Sunday, March 20, 2015, at 4 p.m., the Lifelong Learning Committee will be hosting Bill Israel. His presentation on that date will be a basic introduction to Jewish Genealogy. The program will provide an overview of what genealogy is all about, and how Jewish genealogy is different and presents unique challenges in family history research. Jewish immigration to America will be reviewed from colonial times to the present, and some widely believed myths about Jewish genealogy will be dispelled (the inspectors did not change anyone's name at Ellis Island). Several readily available and easy to use tools, techniques and resources for genealogical research will be identified and demonstrated. Examples will be shown of a variety of current and historical genealogical documents. The presentation, if time permits, will include doing some actual research on ancestors of persons in the audience. The program will be followed by Dinner with the Tribe.

Education - Amy Weinstein

Each fall, it is all about the High Holidays!

Our classes have had great diverse learning. Our younger students connected Torah portion themes to the holidays, including art projects. We had "Tootsie Roll Torahs," Jonah and the whale along with a variety of Sukkahs. Our 4th and 5th graders baked their own round challahs and our K/1 class baked Hebrew letter shaped cookies (thanks to Tiffany Feldman). Our 7th graders made in-depth projects combining the concept Tikkun olam with Sukkot. Joan Frankel's music program adds a lot of excitement to our curriculum. She has been working on songs with Hebrew letters and body parts for younger groups. Our older classes have been working with her on Torah Trope, and Havah Nagilah as we prepared for Simchat Torah. They also began to learn the Hora.

Our 3rd annual Sukkot under the Stars event was held on September 30. It was very well attended. We had music, crafts, games and food- including s'mores! I was very pleased that many Torah Tot families with pre-school children attended. We saw some familiar faces of members without school age children as well. I would like to thank Michelle McCormick and the Parent Association Sukkot Committee for a wonderful evening,

Our 7th graders led us in worship on Shabbat. They did a fabulous job with leading the congregation in prayer as well as giving us their insightful take on the Torah portion. Nicely done, 7th grade. Thanks to their teacher, Dan Weinstein, and aide, Jaime Goodman. We appreciate the time and commitment you show toward our students. Shout out to our 7th grade parents for sponsoring the Oneg that evening.

Parent Association meets regularly. We have about a dozen parents attend. We are currently planning for Chanukah. Ideas for fundraising and working with Art after Dark are main topics as well. Please contact Michelle McCormick to get involved!

As always, please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions/concerns/comments regarding your child's religious education at Congregation Beth Shalom.

Still Collecting Care Items!

The Social Action Committee has placed a plastic bin in the hallway for our congregants to help fill with small toiletries and small bottles of water for our CARE bags. The toiletries are the size of those you get in hotels (hint hint), or a little larger. These may include shampoo, soap, skin cream, deodorant, toothpaste, toothbrush, comb, sanitary items etc. We are also collecting small bottles of water, small bags of peanuts, peanut butter crackers. Start contributing now and help us make this project a success. This would be a great way to get your kids involved. Give them a few items to place in the bins each Sunday when they come in for school. They'll love watching the bins fill up and know that they helped.

The High Holy Day Appeal for 5776 is open through the end of January 2016. To make a contribution, please contact the office. This does not include donations made through the Book of Remembrance or Adopt-a-Book Campaigns, nor does it include non-members. If there are any errors or omissions to this listing, please notify the office as well.

Donations

Congregation Beth Shalom accepts donations for many purposes, with a variety of opportunities for donors to support the good works of the Temple. You may contact the office either by phone or email to make a contribution, or head to our website to make a secure online payment through a PayPal account or by using a credit card.

Funds:

- General Fund (unrestricted): An unrestricted gift to the General Fund allows the temple to use those funds wherever they may be needed most. This fund incorporates contributions received from our High Holy Day Appeal, Yahrzeit donations, Bricklets, Adopt-A-Book, Tree of Life (unless otherwise indicated) and other non-restricted gifts.
- Building Fund: A fund to ensure the continuing physical growth of our spiritual home. Intended for capital improvements and major building repairs.
- Endowment Fund: Gifts to this fund are placed in an investment account and temporarily restricted or can be defined/restricted by the donor. This fund ensures the future of our temple.
- Religious School Scholarship Fund: These funds will be made available to Religious School students who are in need of tuition assistance, as determined confidentially by the Treasurer.
- Rabbi's Discretionary Fund: a fund for assistance to families in need, scholarship assistance, interfaith council, Holocaust museum and other endeavors at the Rabbi's discretion.

If you wish to designate a gift to a particular purpose, for example, Food Bank, Choir, Oneg, Social Action, etc., you may do so by noting as such on your payment method or with an accompanying note; otherwise, your gift will be used where it is needed most.

Opportunities:

- Adopt-A-Book: A dedication label will be placed in one of our prayer books, to commemorate a simcha or in honor or memory of a loved one for just $54.
- Bricklets: For as little as $9 you can send a Bricklet Card instead of buying a card for birthdays, condolences, etc. A Bricklet Card in your name will be sent to the person you wish stating that a donation has been made in his or her name to Beth Shalom to honor the occasion.
- Tree of Life: The Tree of Life is on the back wall of our Sanctuary. An engraved leaf or stone can commemorate many simchas, b'nai mitzvah, wedding, birth, graduations, etc. Leaves are $180, and stones are $1800.
- Yahrzeit Plaque: To honor the death of a loved one, you may purchase a plaque that will be cared for in perpetuity for $250. The name of the deceased along with their date of death is included on the plaque.

*Unless otherwise noted by you, your gift will be acknowledged in the Kibbitzer the month following its receipt.
If your donation is incorrectly listed or omitted, please notify the temple office immediately.*
