From the Rabbi's desk...

For those of you who need an occasional reminder to pause and reconnect with the beauty of nature. Sukkot is your holiday, Leaving the confines of our homes to sit in this fragile shelter with starlight pecking through this porous roof by night and sunlight streaming in by day, we can again feel the wonder of nature. The clean scent of palm leaves combined with good food, special company, and the high spirits of the holiday make Sukkot a favorite on the Jewish calendar.

The Sukkah is a beautiful outdoor house crafted by nature's treasures complete with table and chairs, special decorations, twinkling night lights and good things to eat. Sukkot is also called The Holiday of Booths, recalling the miraculous way the Jewish people survived the forty years in the harsh Sinai desert after the Exodus from Egypt. They survived the sandstorms and desert sun.

We celebrate the gifts of the miraculous clouds of glory that were always pleasant to shield us. All forms of shelter and sustenance were provided by our creator. This is a time of harvest so its rich bounty can be used to add joy to the holiday. May G-d continue to shelter us and provide for our sustenance.

B'ahava,
Rabbi Lefkowitz

The President's Corner

Shalom Everybody,

So, this article is being written in the week leading up to Erev Rosh Hashanah and you will be reading it after our High Holy Day services. There is a lot of stuff going on during the writing of this article up to the point of it being printed and you reading it sometime in October.

Steve Billor

So, I would like to start by saying “Thank You” to everybody who has had a part in putting our Rosh Hashanah/Yom Kippur services together. It is a huge undertaking that starts with getting the building and grounds as presentable as possible, as well as getting the services organized with all of the activities that are done to complete the services appropriately. We have so many selfless people who get these activities organized with our small congregation; it is truly a blessing. I hope we had a large turnout at our High Holy Day services and can all refresh our Jewish spirituality together as a family.

I would also like to welcome our new members. We have four (4) new families that joined at the end of August and the beginning of September. Slowly and surely, we are achieving our goal of recreating a large thriving Synagogue as it was pre-covid.

My most undesirable task as President, is to spearhead High Holy Day donations/Mitvahs. If for some unfortunate reason you were unable to attend one of our services and didn't hear my speech asking for people to do a special mitzvah and help our Synagogue thrive, then I will use this article to get my message out to help CBS at this important time. We have several special donors that are willing to match your contributions up to $12,500. This will allow us to hit our goal of $25,000 this year. We need your Mitzvah donations to get some much-needed repairs to our building (replace an air conditioner compressor, as well as fixing/replacing other smaller priced items). We have some good things in the works that will help us in other areas of the Temple, but they will happen later this year.

Please join us at whatever events and services you can; and please give us your feedback in any area you feel can be improved on. We all want Congregation Beth Shalom to fulfill every member's needs and spirituality.

Thank you (Todah Rabah) for taking the time to read my article and May you all have a blessed and fulfilled year in 5784.

Steve Billor

Book of Remembrance

Putting together the Book of Remembrance is a daunting job. It takes attention to detail and much follow up. It is compiled by members of the Ritual Committee. Both members of CBS and non-members are grateful to the committee. We know that much time and effort goes into publishing it. Every once in a while, something slips through the cracks. Sometimes it is a name miss spelled or name omitted. We apologize to Carol Plesur. Joe Plesur's name was inadvertently omitted from the book. We offer our sincerest apology to Carol.

Also, if you were not able to attend the Yizkor service and want a copy of the Book Of Remembrance send an email to cbs-brandon@outlook.com.

Have a happy and healthy year. Toby Koch, Ritual Chairperson.

Best Friends Day

In conjunction with the portion in the Bible about Noah and the ark on Sunday, October 22, 2023, at 1 pm we will be having our second annual "Best Friends Day".

Bring your pets for a blessing. If you don't have any pets, that's okay, several members have more than one and will share. There will be games, activities and food. Brandon's Knish King will be present with his homemade knishes, hot dogs, and soft drinks for sale. This event is free and open to the public. Children are welcome.

Please RSVP by October 20 to cbs-brandon@outlook.com.

Let's have a fun afternoon together celebrating being alive.

We are starting a Tot Shabbat program. Bring the kiddos on the second Tuesday of the month at 6:00pm. Our first Tot Shabbat is on September 8, 2023.

Toddlers, preschoolers, and children in early grades of elementary school are all welcome. Rabbi Lefkowitz and our Cantorial Soloist, Sandy Santucci will be running the program. The children will be introduced to Judaism by way of stories, songs and hands on activities. The children will learn Jewish values and traditions using age-appropriate activities.

You do not have to be a member of the synagogue to bring your child/grandchild to our Tot Shabbat. Contact Rabbi Lefkowitz at (407) 2226393 if you have any questions.

Gabe Lifschitz

What are the things you do that have a good outcome for you and those around you? The most profound way is to do a mitzvah, or good deed. An example of a mitzvah is to help someone in learning the Torah, especially in Hebrew. There is a myriad of good deeds to help our fellow Jews.

I present the premise that in Judaism, you do things that make you feel proud while sharing with others. The result is that you share what is important to you to continue the faith for the next generation. It means to have the presence of mind that there are memories of times past when we went through suffering. There are plenty of written experiences about that from slavery in Egypt, to the holocaust, and current sentiments of belonging. What could help is to set a habit of good experiences to promote to those around us that there is a good outcome in Judaism, especially for the next generation.

Today, children and teens need good experiences to continue Judaism for the next generation. This requires mentoring, social activities that promote well-being, and especially learning. There are countless ways to achieve this good outcome with the many communication tools available. It hinges on what you do to have a good outcome. It is all about L'dor Vador.

I grew up eating Eastern European food. Polish, Russian, Czech, Rumanian, German dinners with wonderful spices happened daily. I can make some of them if I make an effort. But, I have found many of these old time favorites locally at Babushka's in Temple Terrace.

The restaurant is a hole in the wall on 56th St. The mood is very casual with benches to sit on. The food is very good, home made and delicious. It's not far from USF. Worth the trip!

I had lunch there recently and ordered borsht as well as smoked salmon on bread. The smoked salmon was home made. It was so delicious that I was inspired to look up a recipe and make my own.

The restaurant is small, so I really need the head count to be accurate. If you see this and want to be there, please let me know ASAP so you can be included.

Food Bank

First, we from the food bank wish you a very happy and healthy New Year – may you be inscribed in the Book of Life!

Unfortunately, food insecurity in our community continues to increase. Consequently, the food bank need is growing by leaps and bounds. We are presently serving close to fifty families per month, including some congregational members, and other Jewish families in this area. Thanks to your generosity, we have plenty of canned vegetables but need everything else, including items of a personal nature.

Finally, we need more volunteers to help us bag and hand out groceries to our many food bank recipients. If you could volunteer for just one Food Bank Sunday (October 15, November 19, December 17) between 12 noon and 3:30 P.M., that would be great! Members of the Faith Family United Church of Christ always assist us with our food bank. Please call Meral Ginsberg (813-690-5713) if you can help us on one of these Food Bank Sundays. Thank you!

Golda Meir (1898–1978) was the first and only woman to serve as prime minister of Israel. She was born in Kiev into a childhood of poverty, hunger, and antisemitism. When she was five, her father left to find work in America, and a year later the family settled in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. As a teenager she became devoted to Labor Zionism, giving street-corner speeches, and her family's home became a destination for Zionist emissaries. Her love for Labor Zionism was so fervent that her boyfriend, Morris Meyerson (her future husband), was often in competition with her dedication to the cause.

Essays to help you think about this weekend's horrors

By the editor of Mosaic Magazine's editor, Jonathan Silver

*Edited for brevity, links are numbered and are listed at the bottom

The world has been following the barbarous attacks on Israel this weekend with horror. Our writers will have much to say on them, their origins, and their ramifications this week and in the weeks to come. In the meantime, we thought we'd send three relevant essays from recent years that, each in their own way, can provide some historical, political, and intellectual context to Israel and its adversaries.

The first, "How Gaza Became Israel's Unsolvable Problem," 1 is from 2021 and is by the American-Israeli politician and historian Michael Oren. It narrates a history of Gaza that starts thousands of years ago and then zeroes in on the last three decades of conflict. Oren held cabinet responsibility for overseeing Gaza, and he shares some of what he learned. "Israel must determine its goals in Gaza, whether merely reducing Hamas's capabilities or fully demilitarizing the Strip," Oren concludes presciently. "It must state its intention to eliminate all of Hamas's leadership, military and political alike."

The second and third essays are more recent.

This month, the veteran foreign-policy expert Michael Doran has written a superb look 2 back at the Yom Kippur War on its fiftieth anniversary. Little did he, or we, know just how dismaying the historical resonances and lessons would be for this moment. They were trenchant enough last week. They now are haunting.

Finally, last month, the Egyptian writer Hussein Aboubakr, now a refugee living in America, wrote a brilliant history 3 of the idea of the Nakba and the way successive generations of Arab leaders and intellectuals hoped to use it as a springboard into a new and brighter future. There have been four revolutionary waves in the Middle East over the 75 years, Aboubakr points out, and nearly all have made Palestine their motivating engine—Hamas among them. Hamas is, of course, an Islamist organization. But many of its ideological motivations were forged in earlier secular understandings and messianic visions.

None of these essays contain breaking news, or offer the latest in tactical developments on the ground. There are other publications, valuable ones, that do that kind of thing, and we'll all be reading and refreshing them in the hours and days ahead. These essays aim to offer something deeper, a level of analysis underneath the news that we hope can help you understand the movement of history.

With every good wish,

Jonathan Silver

ADOPT A CLEANING MONTH

It is nice to come home to a clean house. CBS is our home. The cleaning crew does an excellent job.

They need to be paid monthly: $400.00. For the 2023-2024 fiscal year we are looking for people who want to adopt a month of cleaning or even a partial donation is welcome. Steve Billor adopted June. Gerry Pliner adopted July and Neil Spindel adopted September. Pick a month and send the check marked cleaning or we can incorporate your donation into your dues commitment. - Building Fund: A fund to ensure the continuing physical growth of our spiritual home. Intended for capital improvements and major building repairs.

Opportunities:

- AdoptABook: A dedication label will be placed in one of our prayer books, to commemorate a simcha or in honor or memory of a loved one for just $54.
- Bricklets: For as little as $9 you can send a Bricklet Card instead of buying a card for birthdays, condolences, etc. A Bricklet Card in your name will be sent to the person you wish stating that a donation has been made in his or her name to Beth Shalom to honor the occasion.

WHAT IS SIMCHAT TORAH?

Simchat Torah means "Rejoicing in the Torah". This holiday marks the completion of the annual cycle of weekly Torah readings. We read the last Torah portion, then immediately read the first chapter to remind us that the Torah is a circle and never ends.

WHAT IS THE TORAH?

The Torah is the five books of Moses. They are the teachings that direct man how to live. Torah is the embodiment of the Jewish faith. It contains the terms of his Covenant with G-d. It is what makes a Jew Jewish. The Torah is handwritten on parchment scroll and kept at the synagogue in an ark. A portion is read every Saturday in synagogue.

HOW DO WE CELEBRATE?

Simchat Torah is a joyous holiday. We take out all of the Torah scrolls and march them around the synagogue seven times. There is dancing and singing. As many people as possible receive an Aliyah, where they recite a blessing over the Torah reading. Even children receive an aliyah. Children wave flags and are given candy and caramel apples to represent the joyous sweet nature of this holiday.

Time for a Nosh

Crunchy and Bright Greek Salad

By Kendra Vaculin (Epicurious.com)

With juicy tomatoes, crisp cucumber, salty feta, and briny olives, this easy Greek salad recipe will transport you to a sea-side café on the Mediterranean coast. Okay, maybe not, but you get the gist. Called horiatiki, meaning “village salad,” in Greece, this vibrant side dish highlights fresh produce, so seek out the best the market has to offer. A variety of tomatoes creates textural interest: Toss in halved cherry or grape tomatoes, diced Romas, and, if they’re in season, big beefsteak or heirloom wedges. Use an English cucumber (or a few Persians if that’s what’s available), which have smaller seeds and thinner skin than other varieties. Kalamata olives are the traditional choice, but black olives will work in a pinch. Last but certainly not least, avoid dry, pre-crumbled cheese—use the freshest block of feta cheese you can find (preferably feta in brine, which has a crumbly yet silky texture and salty flavor).

The simple homemade Greek salad dressing is made with equal parts oil and vinegar, plus Dijon mustard, dried oregano, and a few cranks of black pepper, but you do have a little room to play here. Have some fresh oregano? Swap it in for the dried. Not enough red wine vinegar? Supplement with fresh lemon juice. Whip the dressing ingredients together in the salad bowl you plan to serve in, but note that while you can prepare the vinaigrette ahead of time, you should wait to toss it with the salad ingredients until just before serving.

INGREDIENTS:

3 Tbsp. extra-virgin olive oil
 3 Tbsp. red wine vinegar
 2 tsp. Dijon mustard
 1 tsp. dried oregano
 Kosher salt, freshly ground pepper
 1 large cucumber, coarsely chopped
 1 medium green bell pepper, ribs and seeds removed, thinly sliced
 1 small red onion, thinly sliced
 12 oz. tomatoes, preferably a mix of sizes, halved, quartered, or sliced
 ¾ cup Kalamata olives, pitted, torn
 6 oz. feta, cut into thin slabs
